

Pedestrian Operated Forklift / Pallet Truck Duty of Care Training

Course Overview

There is no licence required to operate a pedestrian operated forklift or a pallet truck. However, OH&S Duty of Care requires that operators have training in Plant and Equipment they need to use in performing their expected duties.

This course covers the use of all types of Pallet Truck - manual / motorized walk-behind / motorized rider and Pedestrian operated Forklift (Walkie-stacker).

Outcome

A Certificate of Attendance will be issued to applicants who successfully complete the course.

Course Duration

Approximately 3 hours.

Times quoted are estimates only and will vary with group size and experience.

Location

Training is conducted onsite with the following requirements;

- a suitable machine, with a current log book (if applicable)
- a safe, open area in which to operate the machine/s

Identification

Applicants must be able to produce identification. E.g. Drivers licence / photo I.D. card.

There is no age requirement.

Investment

On application

